Subject: Microsoft Settlement

To whom it may concern,

I wish to join many other voices in expressing my misgivings about the proposed Microsoft settlement. I am a developer, and I have found time and time again that Microsoft's undocumented APIs make it very all but impossible to mix Microsoft technology with other types of technology. Any acceptable settlement must require Microsoft to properly document all of its APIs and to not change them without adequate prior notification (as they always do, for example with their use of SMB networking protocols).

Yours faithfully,
Robert Wills
